COMMERCIALIZED ATHLETICS

At a recent meeting of church workers in this state resolutions were introduced and passed condemning the practice of dancing in the colleges of that denomination on the ground, as we recall, that the dance promotes immorality. We do not take issue with these devout people on this subject just here, but we would suggest that they might have gone a little further and started an investigation of athletic conditions among the colleges of this and other states and found something of equal if not more fruitful source for study. We do not say that athletics in the colleges have yet approached a seriously dangerous stage, but conditions are approaching the stage where we might well be apprehensive.

It is a well known fact that athletics have come to play such a part in student life that coaches are paid more than presidents and the teams are made to be money-making propositions for coaches. Coaches are paid in some instances, according to reliable reports, not according to how they develop the bodies of the students or how well they train the material placed in their hands, but according to the crowd they are able to get to the games. The result of this will be inevitable and is already apparent. Unseen forces are offering secret and special inducements to athletes to attend this or that college. This is common knowledge among student bodies.

The dangers of such things in colleges is apparent. The student who is taught by the example of his athletic teams that success may be rightly gained through secret and devious methods, is getting the wrong impression of what true success means and is having laid before him an example that cannot be beneficial to the moral side of his nature.

The moral atmosphere surrounding athletic teams ought also to be studiously guarded. As pointed out in an editorial recently reprinted in this paper, the morals of our professors are carefully examined by trustees. Equal care should also be taken in the selection of those who have the direction of the physical education of the students.

PRESIDENT GOLFING IN NEW YORK AGAIN

New York, Sept. 12.—For the third time since his inauguration last March, President Harding was in New York City tonight, after motoring from the Sea View Golf Club, near Atlantic City, a distance of about 120 miles.

The president's visit here, he explained after arriving at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, was merely a continuation of his short golfing and vacation trip. The president and Mrs. Harding attended a popular musical comedy tonight, sharing their box with Henry P. Fletcher, under-secretary of state, Mrs. Fletcher and Mr. and Mrs. George Van Fleet of Marion, Ohio.

Despite a drizzling rain that fell during the first fifty miles of the trip, President Harding apparently enjoyed the day's motoring. Over roads for the most part of gravel or macadam, the presidential party of four automobiles averaged nearly forty miles an hour.

At Perth Amboy, where a short stop was made, a hundred or more school children and many of their elders lined the streets and waved flags as the party passed. Mr. Harding held an impromptu reception while the others rested in a hotel before taking the ferry to Staten Island, where the motor trip was resumed.

At St. George the party was met by Mayor Hylan who received its members on the municipal ferryboat "Queens".

As it crossed the harbor to Manhattan the presidential pennant at the masthead of the ferry attracted the attention of river and harbor craft which blew whistles in greeting. President and Mrs. Harding who made the trip in the boat's pilot house, waved back and the president frequently raised his hat in acknowledgment.

DR. W. W. DANIEL CLAIMED BY DEATH

Prominent Methodist Divine Died at His Home in Kingstree Monday Night.

Kingstree, Sept. 19.—The Rev. W. W. Daniels, D. D., former president of Columbia college and a leading minister in the Methodist Episcopal church in South Carolina, died suddenly here at midnight tonight. Dr. Daniel had been in declining health the last few months, but was able this morning to attend the opening exercises of the Kingstree high school. He had returned from his summer vacation only a few weeks ago, and it was thought his health was much improved. Dr. Daniel was pastor of the Kingstree Methodist church here. Funeral arrangements have not been made. He was 62 years old.

Dr. Daniel was educated at Newberry college, completing the course with distinction in 1879. He was admitted by the conference to preach in December, 1883, and served as follows, in the state: Anderson circuit, 1884; Fort Mill circuit, 1885; Yorkville, 1886-1889; Chester, 1890; Newberry, 1891-1893; Florence, 1894; Washington Street, Columbia, 1895-1898; St. John's, Anderson, 1899.

At the session of the conference in Orangeburg in December, 1899, Dr. Daniel was elected president of Columbia college to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Rev. John A. Rice, D. D. He resigned the presidency of the college several years ago because of declining health, and has been serving as pastor in Methodist churches since that time. He was president of the college 17 years.

August 29, 1883, Dr. Daniel was married to Miss Alice Rowena Aull of Newberry, who survives him. To this union four children were born, three sons and a daughter, who also survive. They are: Herman Aull Daniel, of Kingstree, Mrs. Sid Berry, of Wilmington, N. C., Walter Daniel, who is studying medicine in New York, and Miss Julia Daniel of Kingstree.

"FATTY" AND ESTRANGED WIFE HAVE A REUNION

Though in Prison Walls, Meeting was an Affecting One as He Clashed His Former Companion in His Arms.

San Francisco, Sept. 19.—Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle and the wife from whom he has been separated for more than four years had a reunion today in the visitors' room at the city prison where Arbuckle is awaiting trial on a murder charge. He is accused of causing the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, through an episode at a drinking party in his suite at a hotel here.

Arbuckle clasped Mrs. Minta Durfee Arbuckle in his arms, then affectionately greeted her mother, Mrs. Flora Durfee. The three, with the prisoner's brother, A. C. Arbuckle, of San Francisco, then sat down for a half hour of conversation.

The grand jury resumed its investigation of the Arbuckle affair tonight, subpoenas having been sent out for Dr. M. E. Rumwell, the attending physician in most of Miss Rappe's illness, Miss Joyce Clarke, one of the participants in the party, Dr. Gabor Kingstone and Reginald Morely, two men who were reported to have some knowledge of the affair, and several other witnesses.

Miss Clarke was questioned by District Attorney Matthew A. Brady tonight, but refused to sign a statement and accordingly was ordered to appear before the grand jury.

U. S. Sherman of Los Angeles, also subpoenaed, is en route to Chicago, Brady said, and no legal means exist to bring him back. Sherman was an occupant of the Arbuckle suite and was present at the party from which the death of Miss Rappe resulted.

The death of Miss Virginia Rappe, Los Angeles film actress, was again before the county grand jury here tonight. A few nights ago this grand jury indicted Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, a motion picture comedian, on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the girl's death.

Dr. M. E. Rumwell, who attended Miss Rappe during most of her fatal illness, was subpoenaed by the grand jury to tell, according to District Attorney Matthew Brady, why an autopsy had been ordered performed without consent of authorities, as required by California statute.

Miss Rappe's illness, it has been charged, began in Arbuckle's suite at the Hotel St. Francis here, while she was his guest and resulted from violence inflicted by Arbuckle in being held for trial on a charge of first degree murder sworn to by Mrs. B. M. Delmont, another member of Arbuckle's party.

Previous to the convening of the grand jury tonight, District Attorney Brady announced all angles of the case would be investigated, particularly, he said, a report quoting one woman witness as having declared "There is money in this case and I am going to get some of it."

Funeral of Hewlett Sullivan

Mr. Jos. H. Sullivan and other relatives of this county attended the funeral of Mr. Sullivan's nephew, Mr. Hewlett C. Sullivan, which took place in Williamston Monday afternoon. The deceased, who was a son of former State Senator Geo. W. Sullivan, lost his life in the flood of the Brazos River in Texas week before last. The body was identified by Mr. Wash Sullivan, a brother of Mr. Hewlett Sullivan, who went out to Texas immediately after the report of his brother's death was received. The body of Mr. Bailey Turner, formerly of Spartanburg, who lost his life in the same flood, was buried at Rockdale, near the scene of his death, Friday. The young men were operating a large ranch in Texas and had been very successful in the business. Mr. Bailey was the first to go out a number of years ago and later sent for his friend to share in his good fortune. Both young men were widely known over the Piedmont section of the state and had many friends who were shocked to learn of their tragic death.

THE STOLEN STILL HAS BEEN RECOVERED

Was Found by Greenwood Officers Near the Greenwood-Abbeville Road With 3,000 Gallons of Mash.

The fifty-gallon still stolen from the sheriff's office several weeks ago, a few hours after its capture on Saluda river, was recaptured today about noon by Sheriff E. M. White and his deputies and Abbeville county officers about a mile west of a negro church near the line on the Abbeville-Greenwood road. No arrests were made, as the still was not in operation, Sheriff White says. About 2,000 gallons of mash was destroyed. The copper still was brought to the sheriff's office and will be turned over to J. W. Spearman before night, to be cut up into copper sheets for use in making useful copper articles. Sheriff White says he doesn't mean to take any chances with it this time.

The still was identified as the same which was stolen from the sheriff's office by certain marks on the bottom.

While the still was not in operation when captured, the sheriff said that one run had been made and the mash destroyed would have been ready to run the last of the week.
